ALL THE FORCES of Daly City fire fighting equipment were called out to combat a Winchester street fire Thursday that did an estimated $6,000 damage to two homes. Volunteer James Welsh is shown ascending ladder at 344 Winchester, home of Ernest Lolax, where fire was believed to have started by spontaneous combustion. Firemen had to enter rear of homes because smoke was so heavy at entrance. One fireman, Ed. Cooke, was briefly overcome by smoke inhalation. Lolax' home suffered the heaviest damages, about $4,000, while the residence of Mrs. Irene Hosford, 348 Winchester, was damaged to the extent of about $2,000. Both homes and their furnishings were insured. Eighteen firemen and three engines were summoned to the blaze.

THE TOWN RECORD

By MONTE DAYTON

Remembrances: A man who served with the 140th radio and intelligence unit when they were stationed in this city dropped in the other day to say a few words of thanks to THE RECORD and the local citizenry for the kindnesses shown him.

It goes to show they don't forget. It was ten years ago that the outfit was stationed high up in the Daly City boondocks.

"We still remember what the people of Daly City and your newspaper did for us," he said.

Those mysterious phone calls to ladies in Daly City's social hierarchy have ceased.

The city fathers aren't the only ones who attend conferences. H. Z. WEIBEL, Jeff elementary superintendent, is confabbing at the California School Administrators meet.

That was young MICHAEL NYGREN, who got himself involved in a bizarre accident.

The youngster was carrying a snake to school in a jar, dropped the contained and cut his hands on the broken pieces.

He's on the mend now, his mother reports, after having several stitches taken.

Don't ask us if the snake got away.

Local cops, in conjunction with the state board of equalization's new program, will send an officer to all football night games played by Jefferson High school.

Jeff Teachers Exceed United Crusade Quota

During the first week of the United Crusade Drive, Jefferson Elementary Classroom Teachers Association exceeded its $1000 self imposed quota. Garden Village school was the largest contributor, said Mrs. Wood, president.

COP SERGEANT'S SON HIT BY CAR

Tommy Benedetti, five-year-old son of Daly City police sergeant Ricco Benedetti, 98 Vale street, suffered minor injuries Wednesday when he was struck by a car at the intersection of Vale and Mateo streets.

Driver of the vehicle, Meyer Paul Cohen, 39, of 2022 48th avenue, San Francisco, said he was travelling east on Vale street when the boy darted out in front of his auto.

The driver was not cited.

The youth received cuts about the forehead and knee. He was not hospitalized.

SIGNATURE of Mayor Joseph Verducci is affixed to resolution proclaiming October 18-24 as "Electric Week" here, as Joseph Rohl, local PG&E manager,

This marks the second term in their positions for both Sweeney and Mrs. Van Over.

All five board of directors members were re-elected. They were: Stanford Hannah, Joseph Rohl, Kendree, Sweeney and Dan Harris.

Board members will serve three year terms while officers will hold their positions for one year.

State Should Start Feather River Project -- Kirkwood

YUBA CITY, Calif., Oct. 17. — State Controller Robert C. Kirkwood said this week the state should proceed with the huge Feather River Project on a phase construction basis, with the primary unit, the multiple-purpose Oroville Dam, placed under way as soon as possible.

Speaking to a silver anniversary tea of Yuba City Republican women, Kirkwood said the state's future growth will be limited only to the extent that a dependable water supply is available.

As state controller, I am one of the member of the State Water Project Authority and it is my aim to see that our water resources are developed as rapidly as possible in order to keep pace with the state's constantly expanding requirements," Kirkwood said.

Essential Step

"Construction of the Oroville dam is an essential step in this program. The feasibility of its construction as a separate unit should be determined now. If it is found to be feasible, it should be placed under construction without delay."

The controller said construction of the dam should proceed without delay. It need not await a final determination on the most efficient methods of carrying surplus water to any deficient areas.

"Construction of the dam is the keystone of the entire project," he said.

"There also are other factors to be considered.

"First, before any such canal systems can be placed in operation, the ultimate needs of the northern counties of origin must be established and protected adequately.

Mayor Verducci Declares "Electric Week" For Daly City

In recognition of the invaluable services which electricity renders to our community in industrial, commercial and residential fields, Mayor Joseph Verducci has declared October 18 through 24 as "Electric Week" here.

The observation is also being held "as a tribute to Thomas Alva Edison who on October 21, 1879, first perfected the incandescent electric light; and to the many other pioneers in the electrical industry through whose efforts humanity is so well served."

Verducci said "Electric Week" was also declared to "Create an awareness of the importance of electricity in every day life; and by means of an educational program to impress people in all walks of life with essential facts which will provide safe, efficient and most economical use of electricity in their different endeavors."

Daly City PG&E manager Joseph Rohl was on hand as Verducci signed the proclamation.

END TO DOUBLE SESSIONS SEEN AT WESTLAKE

An end to Westlake elementary school double sessions by Christman was seen today by Jefferson district superintendent H. Z. Weibel.

Weibel said he had received an inspector's report on construction at the Olympia school which said work was "progressing very well."

According to Weibel, Olympia should be open for classes by the end of the Christmas holidays "at the latest."

This would allow 300 children now attending Westlake to be routed to the Olympia school, thus eliminating all double sessions for the 540 children now attending Westlake.

Olympia school will contain rooms for six regular classes and one kindergarten, housing a total of 240 children. Another 60 children will be handled in the multi-use room, which will be temporarily used for two classrooms, making facilities available for a total of 300 children at the new school.

Completion of Olympia will mark the end of a split session situation which plagued nearly 1000 Westlake residents at the beginning of the school year.

Originally the contract called for completion of the school in September of this year, in time for opening of the fall term.

When work was delayed, however, all children in the area were sent to Westlake, overcrowding the school to double capacity.

Eighteen classrooms, totalling 540 children, have been attending half-days at the Westlake school.

Ask Christmas Toys For Needy Children

An appeal for new or used toys was issued this week by the committee in charge of the drive to gain Christmas toys for needy children.

Elmer Kennedy, fire chief, Jack Colthurst, Pete Markovich and Allen Brush are in charge of the drive.

They have asked persons having un-needed new or used toys to forward them to the local fire department.

The toys may be delivered to Firehouse No. 2, 499 Santa Barbara avenue, or Firehouse No. 5, 50 Lake Merced boulevard.

Re-built by the fire department. Persons who know of needy families who might be able to use toys may contact committee members at PL 5-1539 or PL 6-0496.

The formal complaint charged Workman with crimes against children and crimes against nature, alleged to have taken place over an eight-month period.

Tot, 5, Rescued From Manhole Near New Reservoir

The sobbing of a six-year-old Westlake girl resulted in the rescue of her younger brother Monday after the five-year-old tot was trapped several minutes in a 10-foot manhole near the new city reservoir at the end of Southgate avenue.

Kip Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Morris, 808 Beechwood drive, was playing near the open manhole with his sister, Jerry Lee, when he slipped and fell an estimated 10 feet to the bottom.

In near hysterics, the girl's crying attracted attention of an unidentified motorist passing by, who climbed down into the ditch and rescued the boy.

Although thoroughly frightened, only injuries suffered by the child were bruises on the head and back, his mother said.

City employees investigated Tuesday and were reported to have placed boards over the open hole.

Mrs. Morris said local police contacted her and said that the city might place a regular metal cover over the opening.

Urge Formation Of Junior Chamber

A resolution recommending formation of a Daly City-Colma Junior Chamber of Commerce was unanimously passed Wednesday at a meeting attended by prospective members.

On hand to explain the plans and scope of a Jr. Chamber were Carl Bolter, president, and Ted Petersen executive vice president, of the San Francisco Jr. Chamber, and Peter Watts, international presidential candidate from the New Zealand J.C.

A by-laws committee, made up of Dave Steele, John Dewey and Bob Brock, will present by-laws for ratification at a meeting Tuesday night at the Westlake Lounge, beginning at 8 p.m.

The local Jr. Chamber is seeking young men who may be interested in community projects to attend the coming meeting. Further information may be obtained from Steele by phoning PL 5-5208.

Seek Whereabouts Of Man & Furniture

Police today are seeking the whereabouts of Fred Hagenbeck of 98 Valley street and more recently of 365 Castle street.

Complaint against Hagenbeck was signed by Gustave Lissauer, proprietor of a furniture store at 2147 Junipero Serra boulevard.

Lissauer said Hagenbeck owed $102.86 on furniture he had purchased at the store and that he had left town without making arrangements to pay for the merchandise.

Police said Hagenbeck had lived locally at the two above addresses.

LIONS TERM DANCE AT CENTER SUCCESS

A crowd in excess of 1000 persons danced to the music of Del Courtney Saturday night at the Daly City-Colma Lions first annual dance held at the community center.

Roy Arneson, general chairman for the Lions function, termed it an "overwhelming success."

Despite the fact that the Lions weren't allowed to sell liquor on the premises, the local service club realized a profit estimated at $800, which will be used for future Lions activities.

All persons attending the dance were given a Lions Souvenir book.

REC COMMISSION SAYS TEN ACRES PARK SITES MUST FOR NEW AREA

The Daly City recreation commission, meeting with the city planners Tuesday night, said there should be "at least" 10 acres of property set aside for parks and playgrounds in the proposed 440-acre Doelger annexation.

Current agreement between Doelger and the City of Daly City calls for the builder to provide two acres of park property.

The recreation commissioners suggested that perhaps an arrangement could be made with the Doelger firm whereby the city could obtain option to purchase additional land for park purposes.

9000 New Residents

The proposed Doelger annexation would include 440 acres of property southwest of the present Westlake development. An estimated 3000 homes housing 9000 new residents would be built.

Recreation commissioners said that for 9000 people, 10 acres would be a minimum needed for action on the actual annexation itself, but said they would make their recommendation at their next meeting November 9.

In other business Tuesday the planners heard application of Western Advertising Co. to install benches with advertising at all bus stops. Commissioners referred the matter to their next regular meeting.

Request for use permit to build a cabinet shop, entered by Carmelo De Luca, was approved by the commission.

Samuel Ziegler, 73 Lake Forest drive, requested that the planners investigate the extension being built on a residence adjacent to his. The matter was referred to the building inspector.

An estimated 20 persons were on hand for the Tuesday meet.

Commissioners present were Franz, Julian Cohn and Ed Lopez.

Crowd of 260 Sees Broadmoor Fights

A crowd of 260 people gathered at Garden Village school Saturday night to watch 11 boxing bouts presented by the Broadmoor Youth association.

Of the 11 bouts, eight were judged draws, while the others were lop-sided wins.

There was some disappointment as world middleweight champion Bobo Olson failed to show. Association officials explained that "Bobo's" wife had been operated on earlier that day and that it was impossible for the champ to attend.

The association realized $125 in donations from members of the crowd.

Next project of the youth group will be a junior olympics. Date for the event has not yet been set.

State Should Start Feather River Project--Kirkwood

Studies are now under way to determine these requirements. Second the Metropolitan Water District has submitted plans for this phase of the project which it feels are sounder than those of the state division of water resources.

No Reason

"There is no reason why the dam should not proceed while these issues are being decided."

"California ultimately will need every drop of water it is possible to develop and conserve. Construction of the Oroville Dam will be a major contribution toward this objective."

"In the meantime, the best interests of all the citizens of California demand that the Metropolitan Water District and other southern users must put to beneficial use all the Colorado river water that California rightfully may claim."

On arriving there police said Langensand refused to get out of the car. Sgt. Wood pushed him from behind, forcing him out the door, police report said.

Still Reluctant

Langensand was still reluctant to move, and Wood had to urge him up the city hall steps.

About half way up the stairs police said Langensand stopped, turned around and struck Wood in the left eye with his fist, after which a tussle ensued on the landing, steps and outside the city hall door, with Langensand finally being held under control.

After booking Langensand and his friends, Langensand again got boisterous, according to police, and he considered as supplemental sources of the water the south ultimately will need."

My Mad World

By Leonore Brewer

So far as we are concerned the season will be over when you read this, so now is as good a time as any to assemble what might be called a "hit parade" of performances.

We once commented on our changed attitude toward films and stage performances and noted that attending them had imperceptibly changed from undiluted pleasure to pleasure heavily laced by hard work. Well, we have very carefully resisted this change so far as our opera is concerned, so the following remarks merely give general impressions without analytical details.

The most exciting evening was Richard Wagner's "Flying Dutchman." The title role was sung by Hans Hotter who has a bass-contralto voice of such enormous vitality and power that one is reminded that it's high time we heard Wagner's complete "Ring" in a single season. Undoubtedly we'll have to wait some time for that event, but in the meantime if you are interested in hearing the voice that put Wagner at the top of my hit parade, well, Spencer Barfoot is presenting Hans Hotter at a recital November 8 at the Veterans' Auditorium.

"Tosca" ran a very close second, in that vague distant day when we were barely able to totter into the opera house and when few operas will hold any surprises for us, we intend to leave after the second act, as when Baron Scarpia is murdered the opera ends so far as we are concerned. Of course that's presupposing that in that that day there will be an interpretation of Scarpia that is equal to Robert Weede's, which is the great performance of our day.

"Rigoletto" was opening night and was more than equal to the challenge of the competition on front. The return of Leonard Warren to the company in the role of the jester and the operatic debut of Richard Tucker and Mado Robin gave us a performance that will serve as a yardstick for the future.

Lack of space prevents much more than a capsule comment on the remaining operas:

"Portuguese Inn"—a very tasty tidbit.

"Salome"—a magnificent climax after a rather slow start.

"Manon"—noteworthy for the restoration of the scene containing the ballet. Also Dorothy Kirsten's rendition of Des Grieux from the Seminary.

"Turandot"—wonderful production but wouldn't care to have it on records.

"Marriage of Figaro"—very "talky" and just a wee bit wearisome.

"Il Tabarro"—a beautifully sung gem, dominated by Robert Weede.

"Joan of Arc at the Stake"—musically not too satisfying, but interesting because it is a contemporary work song and spoken in English.

"Fidelio"—at the moment of writing not yet heard. Has a terrific cast and should provide a glorious close to the season, but you never can tell.

"Forza"—most disappointing. Never got off the ground.

"Lucia" rehearsal—Jan Peerce's proving in the last act that, although costumes and acting help, you can stand there with your hands jammed in your twentieth-century pockets and convey everything else with your voice, if you have it. And he has it.

Tell Importance Of Electrical Inspection

(Ed. note: Following is an informative article on the importance of electrical inspection in the safety of person and property. This article seems particularly important in view of the fact that this week "National Electric Week" is being observed.)

Have you ever considered why electrical inspection is important to the safety of person and property? It goes without question that you would not allow dynamite or loaded guns around your house without feeling unsafe. It would be a very unwise person that would do this, and it would almost certainly result in injury to someone or damage to property.

By the same token, we know that electricity, unwisely handled and under certain conditions, can and does kill and injure people and destroys property by fire. Proof of this is unfortunately too prevalent.

On the other hand, if properly handled and sensibly used, electricity is man's most faithful servant. Practically every minute of every day electrical energy is performing innumerable tasks for the benefit of us all. Look around you and it is almost impossible to imagine the confusion and consternation that would result from eliminating electricity from modern living. This generation would find it very hard to imagine living in a non-electrical era.

Electric Slogan

That is why the sponsors of National Electric Week chose the slogan "Do It Better—Do It Electrically." Realizing the tremendous import of electricity today and knowing that the use of this product had doubled every ten years and is certain to continue at this rate, the entire electrical industry is endeavoring to create an awareness of the importance of electricity in everyday life and to impress people in all walks of life with essential facts which will provide safe, efficient and economical use of electricity.

Electricity, like the automobile is here to stay. Whether it becomes hazardous or beneficial is up to each individual citizen.

The utilities provide trained experienced men to generate, transmit and deliver current to your homes and factories. Their experience and ability is invaluable to us all. Their services do not however extend to the home.

Depend On Experience

You depend upon experience and knowledge of the inside wireman who installed the original wiring. In most instances, this faith is well deserved. However, as people are different in many ways, some are not unqualified either by experience, education, or honest intention. Chiselers exist in all business and occupations.

Therefore, as an added safety factor, the electrical inspector is indispensable. He is qualified by experience and education and indoctrinated by the National Electrical Code and other codes to reject unsafe wiring and require corrections before it is energized. He is trained and qualified to do this important job. Continuous study is necessary to keep up with the rapid development of new materials and methods. An invaluable partner of the electrical inspector is the Underwriters Laboratories. The U.L. label is definite proof that the material is approved for certain uses. The electrical inspector is one of the few persons capable of determining misuse of approved materials. This is a much more technical field than most people realize. Only by experience, education, and unending study and research can this ability be acquired.

Qualified Personnel

Therefore, it is very important that electrical wiring be installed and repaired by qualified personnel. Permits should always be obtained for electrical wiring, and the inspection and approval of the job is of immeasurable benefit to you. You can feel reasonably certain that you have a safe installation.

However, that is not the end. You and your family must realize that certain practices are safe and others unsafe. During National Electrical Week, it is hoped all articles and educational data regarding safe use of electricity will be studied and practiced.

Remember, your local electrical

CREEDON TELLS OF DECISION TO STAY IN RACE

Compares Daly With Youngster At The Wheel

At a meeting this week of the League for Women Voters at which he was one of the principal speakers, Assemblyman Daniel J. Creedon warned voters in his 25th district that the election of his opponent on November 2 would be the same as "putting a youngster behind the wheel of a car and letting him drive down Bayshore Highway."

He further stated that San Mateo county, the fourth largest in the state, could not afford to have an inexperienced and incapable man on the job. Creedon declared that he is "in the present assembly race to win" so that the county will have adequate and intelligent representation in Sacramento.

In regard to his recent decision to resign from the assembly, post after election, Creedon said that it would be worth it to the citizens of San Mateo county to have a special election so that both Republicans and Democrats might have the opportunity of backing a qualified candidate for the important post of assemblyman.

He said that irreparable damage could be done in Sacramento by a novice, such as his opponent, who Creedon claims has neither the experience nor educational background to sit with the state's highest legislative body.

Creedon said that during the past few weeks Republican and Democratic leaders have indicated to him that his opponent is the tragic result of a voting mix-up which saw the Democratic backed candidate, Theodore Pretzer, defeated by Daly, whom the Democrats "had never heard of."

"Members of both parties have emphatically stated that they prefer a special election rather than permit a completely unqualified candidate, such as my Democratic opponent, to be elected," Creedon said.

Seek Enlistments In U.S. Navy Now

Applications for immediate enlistment in the U. S. Navy are being urged today by a spokesman for the Navy Recruiting Service.

An expanded enlistment program for the Navy has resulted in increased monthly quotas.

In addition to its normal need for recruits, the Navy urgently needs recruits at this time to replace men who enlisted in the early days of the Korean fighting, whose enlistments are now expiring.

As an added inducement to enlistment at this time, recruits enlisting before November 10th will be granted leave during the Christmas holidays, prior to completion of their recruit training at San Diego.

Men from 17 to 31 years of age may apply for enlistment at Room 12, Federal Office Building, San Francisco. Qualified men may be enlisted as soon as their applications are processed.

While fulfilling his military service obligation, a young man will receive Navy trade training which qualifies him for advancement in the Navy, as well as teaching him basic skills which may be used in civilian occupations.

Britain's "Old Vic Theatre" To Play In S. F. Opera House

The first San Francisco visit of Britain's renowned Old Vic Theatre will take place when the San Francisco Civic Light Opera Association and S. Hurok present the Old Vic Production of Shakespeare's comedy, "A Midsummer Night's Dream" at the War Memorial Opera House for 15 performances only, October 27 thru November 7. Moira Shearer, Robert Helpmann and Stanley Holloway are starred in the lavish presentation, directed by Michael Benthall, which utilizes the full Mendelssohn score for the first time, and whose large company includes a corps de ballet and full symphony orchestra. "A Midsummer Night's Dream" was a highly successful engagement at the Edinburgh Festival and the Metropolitan Opera House in New York where it played to a gross of nearly $400,000.

In order to launch the American phase on schedule, Mr. Hurok arranged for the entire production with nearly 26,000 pounds of sets, costumes and props to be flown over from Edinburgh to New York on a new Pan-American cargo clipper, while the company arrived on a chartered BOAC plane. This is the first time a huge theatrical production and cast has been transported overseas via the airways.

Miss Shearer, lovely ballerina of the Sadler's Wells Ballet, and star of the films, "Red Shoes," "Story of Three Loves" and "Tales of Hoffman" will be seen as Titania. Mr. Helpmann, another stalwart of Sadler's Wells, who has appeared in leading roles at the Old Vic and Stratford-on-Avon, and on Broadway with the Oliviers in their Cleopatra cycle and with the Oliviers in their Cleopatra cycle and with Katherine Hepburn in "The Millionaire," has the role of Oberon. He attended to the choreography, and with Miss Shearer, will dance the Nocturne, staged by Frederick Ashton, associate director of Sadler's Wells. Mr. Holloway, well-known British film comedian, will portray Bottom. Christopher and Robin Ironside designed the scenery and costumes, and the Symphony Orchestra will be under the direction of Hugo Rignold, conductor of the Liverpool Philharmonic.

Broadmoor Parade Launches United Crusade Tomorrow

Volunteer workers in the Colma-Broadmoor area plan a gigantic celebration Saturday as they open their San Mateo county United Crusade drive. A parade is scheduled for 4:30 with two year old Peggy Murphy, 516 Midway, Broadmoor, as Queen and three year old Gary Ghiotti, 1856 Sweetwood drive, as King. Training meetings have been held and district captains report their solicitors are ready to begin solicitation of Westlake residences. Team Captains are Mrs. Frank Fotenos, 51 Westlake drive, Mrs. Moses Grossman, 20 Webster drive and Mrs. J. R. Bohme, 71 Fairlawn.

YOUR NEIGHBORS AND MINE

By Betty Brush

Hello Neighbors:

Here we are again with the news of the folks for the past week. The weather has taken a definite change as this is being written and it is raining quite nicely. Of course by the time you get to read it we may be having another heat wave!

Here is a project of interest to all of us but of prime interest to the Daly City fire department. They are having a drive to collect old, discarded or broken toys that have a way of cluttering up the place and which we just never get around to throwing out. They are going to take them and fix and paint them up for children at Christmas time. Anyone with toys they would like to give can turn them in at the Firehouse at 499 Santa Barbara avenue and for those folks in the Westlake area, at the Firehouse at 50 Lake Merced boulevard. If you have no way to get them to either of the firehouses just give the boys a call at either PL 5-1539 or PL 6-0496 and one of the boys will be happy to come and get them. Come on folks, what seems to be of no use to your child may, with a little fixing and paint, make the difference between a happy Christmas and an unhappy one for someone else's child. Don't put it off—Christmas is closer than you think!

The Halloween Dance sponsored by the MEN'S CLUB of OLPH Parish, which was held last Saturday night was a huge success. The music was good, the refreshments ample and the folks who gathered there just in the mood for Angeles a week ago to see the game and have now returned home happy that their favorite team gained a tie.

As long as there are fishermen there will be fish stories but this one really tops them all. Two of our town's merchants—MR. ROY COMBS and RED KEITHLY took a few days off a week ago to go up in the mountains after the wily trout. They really got their share too, but that isn't the story. Seems they were both fishing at the same spot, Red on a bluff over the stream and Roy on the bank along it when Red really tied into one. He reeled it in as far as he could but it was too big to land from so far above the water. He yells to Roy to land it with his cap and Roy obligingly tried but said cap was too small. Nothing but nothing is too good to land a fish so Red throws down his new hat and pal Roy obligingly lands the fish. Quite a large one too. I saw it. The fish is a sure thing but I'm not too sure of the story. Sounds good anyway.

Had a letter from an old friend (old in years of friendship if not in age) last week. CPL. LARRY ROY who I have known since his first year in high school has been spending the last twenty-two months in Korea and has just about given up hope of getting home. He is in Army intelligence and evidently very valuable to Uncle Sam. He hopes to get home soon and will be out to say hello to all the fellows. Little does he know that as he comes home all the fellows he to say hello to will be overseas.

A 3/c EDWARD F. HARPER of the U. S. Air Forces wrote last week and life is getting more interesting in the big hospital at Nagoya where he is stationed as a medic. He works the night shift which leaves him lots of time for sight seeing during the day. He sent some pictures home and the main street of Nagoya looks just like Market street. He says to tell all his friends hello and he will be seeing them in 16 months and 9 days.

FATHERS, SONS OF "Y" GUIDES TO TAKE OATHS

In the glow of a crackling camp fire, fathers and sons of the YMCA Indian Guides will take the oath at their induction ceremony on Saturday at 7 p.m. George Christopher, president of the SF board of supervisors, will deliver the introductory address.

The colorful ceremony, conducted by the Sequoia tribe of San Carlos in full Indian regalia, will be held at the Golden West YMCA, 333 Eucalyptus drive, Stonestown. All families in San Francisco are invited to attend.

Indian Guides are groups of fathers and their sons (between the ages of 6-9). They have banded together in a spirit of comradeship and adventure and use as much of the Indian folk lore and atmosphere for their meetings at home and outdoors as appeals to each individual tribe.

Their main purpose is to develop a close relationship between father and son. Hence their motto "Pals Forever." Significantly, at the induction ceremony, fathers are asked to sacrifice selfishness and sons to forego impatience.

In a society in which the young boy is largely brought up and educated by women, the YMCA considers this father-son relationship—in which the father assumes personal leadership—an integral part of their boys program. There are Y Indian Guides all over the United States.

SATURDAY was unofficially "Don Mossi Day," as the young Cleveland relief pitcher was honored at two separate functions held in the north county. After making award presentations for the Daly City recreation baseball leagues, the former Daly City athlete rushed to Oliver's in South San Francisco, here he gathered at a banquet attended by the original Colma

APPLE TREE-EAGLES SHARE FIRST PLACE IN LOCAL BOWLING

Scoring a pair of wins over Carlos Pizzeria, Apple Tree Rest moved into a first place tie with Daly City Eagles in the Daly City-Colma Bowling league at Brentwood Tuesday.

The Eagles dropped two to Daly City-Colma Lions, thus losing a chance to stay in undisputed first place. Eagles and Apple Tree both have 13 wins, five losses.

The 101 Club, knocking over Ralph's Cleaners for two victories, hold down third place spot with a 11½-6½ mark.

Top performance of the evening was registered by Thur. Meat's George Curry, who fired a 253 high individual game and also had top series with a 599. He paced the meatman to two wins over Central Club. Hank Amstutz with a 226 game and 562 series, and Stan White, 201 game, 554 series, led the losing Central Club.

Triple killings were scored Tuesday by Vince and Fred, Buckner and Paul's Flowers, with Luca Meats, John's Brentwood Rest, and William Lagomarsino &

Co. the respective victims. Babe De Luca rolled a 227 game and 584 series, while his teammate, T. Santos, turned in a 563 threesome, to spearhead the Vince & Fred shutout over Luca.

W. Hassett, playing on the losing Brentwood five, had a 214 game, 556 series.

Paul's Bob Volkman led his team with a 552 series, while Ray Cool topped scoring for Lagomarsino, with a 206 game, 554 series.

Don Middleton, racking up a 226 singleton and a 569 trio, led Daly City-Colma Lions to their double win over Eagles.

Jim Calonic rolled a 217 game, 519 series, as his King's Market team nipped Walter's for two games. Jay Scholes racked up a 215 game, 546 series, to lead the losers.

Irvin Walters, 215-456, helped Carlos Pizzeria take their one lone game out of three against Apple Tree.

Ralph's Cleaner A. Wright fashioned a 534 series to salvage one win for his club against 101 Club.

REC FOOTBALL DRAWS 280 YOUNG GRIDDEERS

An estimated 280 youngsters competed Saturday as the Daly City recreation department's Little League football competition entered its second week.

Feature game found Colma Eagles overpowering Colma Redskins, 13-2, in Class A division play (eighth graders).

Ross Holgren broke a scoreless first quarter as he picked off a Redskin pass by Rich Dean on his own 20-yard line, churned back 80 yards to score. The Eagles failed to convert.

On the kickoff, it appeared the Sarto A. C. Proves One Run Shy Again

For the second straight week Sarto A.C. came out one run short.

Sunday it was the Hilltoppers who put the one-run whammy on the A.C. as they topped the local club, 4-3, in a peninsula league game at Marchbanks park.

Sarto had it their own way from the third to the eighth inning, holding a 3-2 lead.

In the last of the ninth, with the score tied, two men out and a runner on first, Casazza hit a single to centerfield.

Sarto's Bob Slatt over ran the ball trying to field it, allowing the runner to score all the way from first.

Rich Coburn, pitching for Sarto, allowed 10 hits after a wild first inning in which he gave up four safeties.

He walked two and struck out ten batters.

Don Castro, Sarto left fielder, smashed a homer to the right field bank in the first inning to account for one run.

The Sarto men picked up only five hits in all.

This Sunday Sarto meets San Mateo Blues in another Peninsula league contest at San Mateo.

Redskins would retaliate quickly, as they moved down to the Eagle 20-yard line, only to lose the ball on downs. Following a series of plays which took them to the mid-field stripe, the Eagles Pete Garcia faded back and hit Steve Opperman in the end zone for six more points. Holmgren hung on to a bullet pass to add the extra point, giving the Eagles a 13-0 advantage.

The 'Skins defense tightened and late in the third quarter they pushed the Eagles from their own 40 yard line back to the 2. From there Lewkowitz broke between end and tackle to trap Garcia in the end zone for a two-point safety, winding up scoring for the day.

Rebels Blank Bears

In the other Class A tussle, Colma Rebels easily outclassed the Colma Bears, 27-0. The Bears threatened on several occasions, but couldn't sustain their drive long enough to tally.

Bucs Head B League

In Class B (sixth and seventh graders) play the Broadmoor Buccaneers continued to dominate their division with a 27-0 win over Broadmoor Indians.

OLPH Nips Tigers

The OLPH club romped to a 20-6 win over Broadmoor Tigers in another class B game Saturday.

SARTO MIDGETS IN 15-4 ROUT OVER POTRERO HILL NINE

With every man in the line-up hitting safely, Sarto Midgets won handily over Potrero Hill, 15-4, in a San Francisco Midget league contest Saturday.

It marked the third straight league win for the local youngsters.

Mike Kulik chucked for Sarto during the first four frames, but tired and had to be re-placed by Mike Kennedy.

Twelve Amateurs Go In Thursday Bouts

Six bouts which promise plenty of top-notch amateur boxing will be presented Thursday night at the community center as the OLPH Men's club draws the curtain on their revival of pugilism in the Daly City-Colma area.

A pair of free swinging light weights will pair off in the main event, as L. C. Gage, 20-year-old North American amateur lightweight king, tests Luis Molina, 20, top-ranking product of Santa Clara Youth Center.

Youth center handlers insist that Molina is the leading contender for Gage's crown, and Thursday night's four-rounder will settle the argument. Both are even on weight at 132 pounds.

The semi-windup pits a pair of undefeated heavyweights, Syd Knight of Chicago and Fred Hunt of Richmond, at 185 pounds each.

Knight, 22, in amateur boxing ranks for eight months, has won four straight fights, three of them by the KO route.

His opponent, 21-year-old Hunt, has been victorious in his two fights.

In one of the four special events, Jimmy Buccellatto of Pittsburgh and Ray King of Oakland will fight a re-match in the 162 pound class.

Buccellatto, in gaining a close decision over King in Oakland recently, won a trophy as outstanding fighter of the evening from the American Legion, sponsors of the card.

At one time in the four-round King had Buccellatto down. Buccellatto has had 12 fights and won them all, and in eight of them his opponents failed to go the distance.

Green Youngsters

A couple of green youngsters will vie in the 134-pound event as George Parego of San Mateo trades leather with Pete Volser of Santa Clara Youth Center. This will be the first bout on the card.

In the 128-pound division Al Conley will meet Joe Arroyo. Both boys hail from Oakland.

Willie Moffat of Pittsburgh and Hank Gayton of San Francisco battle in the 145-pound event.

Referee Frank Brown, who handled the Olson-Castellani title fight, will be third man in the ring next Thursday.

Admission prices are $1.50 ring-side, $1 general admission and 50 cents for children 18 years old and under. Tickets may be purchased at the door or may be reserved by calling PL 5-0257.

JEFF DISTANCE TEAM SECOND IN 5-WAY MEET

Rector, Fambrini Wind Up One-Two in Race

Jefferson High school's cross country team established themselves as a tough contender for PAL league honors as they wound up second Thursday in a five-way meet at Golden Gate park's 1.8 mile course.

Jim Rector and Richard Fambrini finished in one-two order in the event, as Rector toured the bagger for Sarto.

Fine fielding play by the local club contributed to the lop-sided win.

In other Midget league play, Daly City Boys club acquired their first win, a forfeit, as the Funston nine failed to show for the Rossi playground contest.

distance in 9:34, best time of the year at that course. Fambrini was clocked in 9:43, also one of the top times posted.

The Jefferson harriers totaled 48 points, placing them just behind the winning Palo Alto team with 31. Other scores were: Capuchino, 64; Burlingame, 84; South San Francisco, 119.

Bob Pool, Jim Taylor and George Grosso ran 11th, 12th and 22nd respectively for the Jefferson squad.

Coach George Simon says Rector and Fambrini are rounded into condition and their best races may be yet to come.

Rector had registered a 10:41 on a 1.9 mile course a week earlier, to place second as the Jefferson team lost to Carlmont, 19-40.

Winning time in the race, 10:40, established a new record, besting the old time of 10:51, which Rector also held.

The local distance runners were scheduled to meet Palo Alto and Carlmont yesterday (Thursday) in a triangular meet at Stanford.

Frosh-Soph Club Nudge Sequoia

The Jefferson Frosh-Soph football team staged an outstanding performance on the home field Thursday, when they defeated Sequoia by a score of 7-6.

In the first quarter no score was made although many thrills were afforded. Mike White caught a Sequoia punt and returned the ball 45 yards in one sequence of plays, but the Jeffs were unable to score.

During the second quarter, Jeff scored and converted. Tapia threw the touch down pass to Canty, and Tapia also threw the conversion pass, this time to Scott.

There was no scoring in the third quarter, but during the fourth quarter Sequoia scored after a succession of good passes. They failed to convert, however, and the score remained 7-6, in Jefferson's favor, at the end of the game.

Injuries Still Hamper Jefferson Hi Eleven

Fall "spraining" camp might be a better description of the gridiron at Jefferson High school.

With first string back Jim Honeywell and Del Hamann both hampered by bad ankles, another back was de-commissioned this week as Ron O'Rourke suffered a twisted ankle.

Honeywell has almost completely recovered from the injury but Hamann is still limping.

Coach Joe McGrath's problem is that O'Rourke is Hamann's regular replacement. With both backs partially disabled it will slow down the running attack considerably.

In last week's 18-13 loss to Palo

Alto, Hamann played a big role in the Jeff's ground game.

Honeywell, primed as the Indians top running back, had a bad day but Hamann made up for it with consistent gainers.

The Indians were never far out of the contest as they trailed, 12-6 at half-time, 18-13 at the end of the third quarter.

An opportunity to score and overtake the Norsemen came late in the fourth quarter, as the Jeffs drove 40 yards to the Palo Alto 30-yard line, only to lose the ball on a fumble.

Hamann was impressive all afternoon on the ground, while Honeywell completed five of 12 passes attempted. His favorite targets were ends Mike Cloonan and Rich Rodriguez, and Hamann. One aerial to Cloonan was good for 20 yards.

The success of the aerial attack has prompted McGrath to concentrate heavily on passing this week in preparation for tonight's (Friday) contest against Capuchino at the Burlingame field, beginning at 8 p.m.

The undefeated Capuchino eleven has been installed a 32-7 favorite over the winless Jefferson team.

Possibly eyeing an upset victory over the team that is a strong contender to co pte PAL, McGrath said, "We have different ideas about that 32-7 prognostication."

only got close enough to shoot on four occasions and sunk only one field goal.

Forward Wally King netted 9 for high points honors. Following closely were George Rocchi, guard with 8, Dick Fudge, center, 7, and Bob Phillips, forward, 4.

The 10s had it a little tougher, as they played to a 26-26 deadlock with five seconds to go in the game. Guard Andy Ruelas spelled the margin of victory as he potted two free throws with seconds remaining.

The little Indians took a 15-10 half-time lead, but altered in the third quarter as they missed nearly a dozen lay-up shots, and the Warriors moved ahead, 21-18.

At one point in the second quarter Dick Firth missed six lay-up shots in a row.

Ruelas led scoring with 8, while Firth notched 7, Al Dye, 6, and Gary Ryan, 5.

In all, the Daly City dimes missed 21 of the easy lay-ups.

Orlich said his players were handicapped by the fan-type back boards, which aren't used at Jeff.

Last Thursday the Jeffs scored a double killing over Carlmont, the 10s winning, 38-15, and the 20s, 33-22.

Phillips paced the 20s with 10 markers, while Ryan posted 9 digits for the 10s.

Yesterday (Thursday) the local

DC CAGERS CONTINUE ON WINNING SPREE

First round in the two light-weight divisions of the Peninsula Athletic league ended Tuesday, and Coach Mike Orlich's Jefferson High school cagers still have yet to show a single loss marring their records.

Tuesday the local fives won a pair over South San Francisco, the 10s squeezing out a 28-26 victory, while the 20s took an easy 35-25 decision.

The doublewins gave each team a 6-0 record and undisputed first place in both divisions.

Ahead 24-3 at half-time, Orlich cleared the 20s bench in the second half as his club coasted to victory over the Warriors.
